To help ensure your safety, our guides are all certified in Wilderness First aid and all start with at least 3 years of ratting experience. The most common injuries are sunburns and injuries that occur on land. Everyone on commental ratting trips was coast jude approved life vest or personal floation device (PFD). Many non swimmers go on rafting trips and have a great time. Your guide will give you an in depth and engaging safety talk before your trip begins explaining what you should prepare for and do in the event that you fail out of the raft.	Its this a good tip for kits? What are the age larges and allow? Absolutely this is a good tip for children of all ages. We have found however that children over the age of its sem to epily it more overall and the children over the age of its sem to epily it more overall and the children will be bored stuck on a formation concern we get from persent is that their children will be bored stuck on a boat for hours at a time. Suprisingly we deal with very few bored children of all any age. The areas we are artification group are some of the most beautiful in the world, and you never know what you might see around any corner. Not to mention the rapids which keep frings very interesting. Each boat also comes equipped with a guide. It has been proven that river guides are unable to go for very long at all without testing stories…some of which are even true!
